In Loving Memory of

Dorothy Ypma

Rebecca's Rambles

Wow! July has come and gone and we have seen lots of progress on our addition.

For those of you that are new to the newsletter and the Parkhaven adventures we are adding a wing that will include a memory care unit and additional 1-bedroom assisted living apartments.

The first and second floor is up and the roof is nearing completion. It's so exciting to walk through and envision how things will look upon completion. The goal is to get everything enclosed and be working on the interior when snow flies.

Our luau was a wonderful party. Thanks to all who attended. Entertainment was provided from a group out of Utah. They were tremendous along with the food. It was a fun evening. We want to thank Manhattan Bank for letting us use their tables and chairs. For those of you that missed this event there is video of some of the festivities on our Facebook.

We are enjoying fresh veggies out of the Parkhaven garden. Radishes, carrots, and lettuce have been a real treat. Our thanks go to Sage Gardens for making this possible.

Continue to enjoy summer and stop by and see us. I'll bet you can find someone to give you a tour of the addition.

Resident of the Month – Rae Schmautz

Rae Schmautz was born in Vancouver, Canada in 1943.

During her life as a missionary she traveled to many places. Rae lived in Kenya for 18 years and then lived in Lesotho for 2 years. After this her travels landed her in Sudan for 8 months. During this time she enjoyed teaching English as a secondary language.

Some of her favorite past-times are reading and playing games on her I-Pad. She still has dreams of traveling to Europe.

She has been married to Harvey for 4 years and together they share 5 children.

Upcoming Events!

Potato Festival - August 18

Happy Hour – August 10th & 24th

Gallatin History Presentation – Aug 8th

New Build Update:

As you can see we are moving quickly along with the new addition. The crew has been working non-stop and their dedication shows. We hope you can drive by and check out the progress. The residents and staff have enjoyed watching up close!

Make Me a Match

The last day in August, Matchmaker Day, honors those who have mastered the art and science of finding love. While matchmaking is considered a long-lost tradition, marriages arranged by matchmakers are still common in India, Pakistan, China, and Japan. About 60% of all marriages in India are arranged, and out of these, less than 4% get divorced. And in these arranged marriages, as times goes on, spouses report feeling more love for their partners. Compare that to the 40% divorce rate in the United States, and you might want to rethink the role of matchmakers. Their job has become more of a science, gathering data on potential couples that includes financial and health histories, shared values, and key personality traits. Modern matchmakers are more likely to sit in front of a computer analyzing data than they are to be found in the village square gathering the latest gossip.

Are You Waffling?

On August 24, 1869, Cornelius Swartwout was awarded a patent for inventing a new, improved waffle iron. The first waffle irons date back to the 15th century in Holland, where waffles were baked on the hearth in long-handled irons. Instead of the recognizable grid of deep wells, waffles were patterned with coats of arms, religious icons, or landscapes. These irons were direct descendants of medieval irons, used to bake religious communion wafers. Swartwout is credited with developing a new version of a waffle iron to be used on a wood- or gas-burning stove. In his design, two cast-iron plates were attached in such a manner that they could be rotated and flipped within a banded collar, allowing both sides of the waffle to cook on the stove top. Irons came in a variety of sizes with the tell-tale grid of wells on each side. Why do waffles today have that gridded and pocketed pattern? Some say that it's to cook a light, crisp waffle, while others argue that the pockets were created to hold rich maple syrup.

Annual 2018 Luau

Our Luau was a huge success again this year and we want to thank My Hana Studios for coming up from Utah to give a performance to be rememebered. Hula dancing, Haka Warriors and Flame Throwing rounded out our evening. Looking forward to having them back next year!

August Birthdays

In astrology, those born between August 1–22 are Lions of Leo. Leos are natural-born leaders: confident, charismatic, creative, and warmhearted. Leos also use their humor and loyalty to bring people together to work for a common cause. Those born between August 23–31 are Virgo Virgins. Virgos are one of the most careful signs of the zodiac. They pay attention to detail, analyze problems, and plan so as to leave nothing to chance. These amazing listeners give excellent advice.
